I created the <http://www.earthheart.com.au/earthheartmission.pdf> to help the world in the best way I know. The website itself (<http://www.earthheart.com.au>) is a passive but interactive social media website that records how people are feeling around the world. On the EarthHeart Mission link are two of my best philosophies - The Secrets of Happiness and Rights and Duties.

I seek to help and change the world for the better. I've always seen the world for what it could be and not what it is, likewise for people, and realise that it's conscious and deliberate actions that create change and not ones that 'go with the flow'. My day to day business is helping people use psychic abilities to help others solve their problems. My bigger goal is to help humanity as a whole solve their problems which government seem to ignore. Common sense and factual truth should be the rule, not votes and media-promoted worldview. I also get asked about psychic abilities and "If you're so smart and have science degrees, why be a psychic?" and I answer "Connecting to another person's mind, via electro-dermal connection, is science - it's just not researched enough yet."

Why work with IQ:

The smartest people in the world are the most interesting. They are the weirdest, strangest, most idiotic bunch of geniuses you'll ever meet and will knock your socks off if you give them the chance. The world is full of flavour and colour and yet most of us are tasteless and colourblind in our important life choices - intelligence is the magic key to creating bigger boxes for ourselves!

Intellect is a quality that should be consciously and deliberately developed as a resource, just like education and specific skill-sets. Learning how to think, and think well, is a skill that has been vastly under-acknowledged and is hypoutilised, to the detriment of society and humanity. I suggest classes should be developed and integrated in all levels of schooling for critical, intelligent and creative thinking to utilise this most important resource of all.

Statement for the World:

Life is short. Very short. Too short. We can either indulge ourselves in the common-media worldview that is projected through our TV and internet screens and enjoy what life has to offer at the expense of people we will never meet, or we can look to see the world as it is with its poverty, injustice, suffering and extinctions - and then seek to change it, minimising further damage and even prevent it. As people with greater perceptions and cognition I believe intellectuals have a responsibility to seek to change the false common worldview and enlighten the rest to the true state-of-affairs - in order to change it - because it is now a becoming a matter of adapt-or-die. Clever people are useful for doing complicated things, and genius for creating nature's new wonders, but the Homo Genii is required for saving our world, and we don't have enough of them doing this - yet.
